

FISH

Gary (Fish) Miller was born in Regina, Saskatchewan and began his career as an architectural illustrator. Attending workshops from artists Joseph Plaskett, Brian Atyeo, and Jack Cowin, Fish developed a passion for colour. Now painting full time, his work can be found in various public and private collections across Canada and has been published in the magazine International Artist. Fish paints landscapes, streetscapes and still life using pastel and oil. He lives in Regina, Saskatchewan.
